I'M PRESENTING

Peer learning – seeking classroom space.

Peer learning is a technique that emphasizes collaboration and teamwork. Students get more control to share and gain knowledge and creating an environment that serves this interaction of knowledge is a prerequisite. Creating a peer learning environment in class cannot pour out of the blue and its practice requires chemistry among peers. There's no magic potion but there can be a stepwise procedure. Let's see how we can employ our coursebook activities to accommodate peer learning in our classroom progressively by searching for some ways for implementation and making a start.
